

NOTICE

For International Students at Kasetsart University

There have been multiple explosions in tourist areas across Thailand on 11 and 12 August 2016.

Kasetsart University advises our international students to exercise a high degree of caution even though there is no nationwide advisory in effect for Thailand.

It would be wise not to go to crowded public places or stay up late at night outside your dormitory or campus until the tensions and dangerous security situations are resolved.

Carry your passport with you at all times in case you are required to show some form of identification.

In case of emergency, please contact your department, faculty or International Studies Center (ISC) at

02 - 562 - 0985

086 - 005 - 2978 (contact 'Sumana')
